

From the County Commissioners

As we write this it is St Valentines Day, next week it is Thinking Day, then Mothers Day. All these are occasions for us to stop and think about what is important to us. Our partners and families who enable us to give time to Guiding, the 10 million members worldwide who are also proud to call themselves Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

Some future events to be aware of: our District and Division Commissioners' conference on 25 March; our Annual review on 25 May when we are going to be holding a special evening of celebration and thanks - location to be confirmed; Bubbs Hill Bash on 24-25 June; Deer Park Barn dance 8 July; and Rainbow 30th birthday celebration at Cowley on 9 July. Re latter we are still looking for a team of leaders who can help organise the day. If you are interested please email us.

Reminder that our Annual Subscriptions will become due for payment on 9 March 2017. Please will all units ensure that they send off their cheques asap after this date. Investigations into late payers will begin in April.

Finally "Growth and Retention" is Girlguiding's main focus at the moment. Making our volunteers feel valued is extremely important and the words 'thank you' can go a long way in doing this. Please remember to thank everyone who volunteers in your team; it can make all the difference in them coming back each week.

So THANK YOU for all you do

Anne & Karen

County Email Addresses

Please note that all Division Commissioners and volunteers with County roles are now using our County email addresses. If you need to contact any of these people please use their @girlguidinggloucestershire.org.uk email address rather than any personal addresses that you may have for them. This helps our volunteers to keep their emails all together and organised and also ensures that you will always be contacting the correct person even when the person holding a role changes. We will also be rolling out email addresses for District Commissioners very soon. A full list of all email addresses can be found here.

Trefoil Guild March 2017

This is a busy time of year for Guilds as many of them have had or are about to have their Annual Meetings where often there is a change of Chairman, Secretary and Treasurers.

We welcome all the new Guild Chairman, Secretary's and Treasurers and look forward to working along side you all.

We would like to give a big thank-you to those Chairman, Secretary's and Treasurers that have finished their appointments. The work they have done on behalf of their Guilds is appreciated by us all.

Our Thinking Day Lunch at Bowden Hall has been another great event for us all and good time to all get together and remember our Guiding Sisters around the world. The report below from Charlton Kings is a bit of a puzzle for you all. Can you work out what they have been up to in their Guild? The first person to let Meg Broome know the answers and they are right might get a little gift from County.

Report from Cheltenham Trefoil Guild

At our October meeting we welcomed Peter Berry with some fantastic slides of his visit to Darjeeling in Northern India. He was a most interesting speaker with pictures of the smallest railway and everyday life. November we welcomed Janet Bollington, who had just returned from India so was able to give us first hand information of the work that goes on within the Donkey Sanctuary that she supports. The year ended with our Christmas meal at the House in the Tree. A collection for our chosen charity GARAS (Glos Action for Refugees and Asylum seekers) which raised £78.

Our Programme for 2017 is planned and we look forward to hearing about the work of The Butterfly Garden, National Garden scheme, homeopathy, Magic Lantern Show, and a Red Nose fun evening as well as supporting County events etc.

Bishops Cleeve Trefoil Guild

Our overall membership remains constant with one resignation through illness and one new member, with an average monthly attendance of 15. Sadly at the end of January one of our loyal members, Dorreen Kreye died. She will be remembered for her cheery smile and willingness to help. She will be greatly missed.

In August our afternoon tea party was a great success. The following month, our speakers at our A.G.M in September were Jill and Peter Muir on their involvement with projects in Rwanda.

In October, Ro Hunt a local librarian spoke on the future of our library and what it offers.

There was much chattering during a craft afternoon. Knitting smoothie hats for Age Concern and knitting Ferro Rocher Christmas puddings, or painting Christmas baubles. It was a fun November meeting.

Our Christmas lunch was different, instead of the usual fare we had Fish and Chips, which went down well. We started the New Year with morning coffee at our local coffee shop. We are looking forward to another active year.

Here's our Quiz:

Can you work out what we were up to in 2016?

May 13th 2016

This meeting was really, number 41 (time for fun) and even we are not number 16 (Sweet Sixteen) any more, there is always time for number 3. (Cup of Tea) and of course before we eat we always number 68. ("Saying" {Saving} Grace).

Answer oginB

June 10th 2016

On the hill where the Monks no longer live, a delightful garden we did see. But the best (at least for me) was a most delicious cream tea.

September 9th 2016

In our Guild we enjoy our meetings, as We Whistle a Happy Tune, whilst Getting To Know (You) each other. Sometimes it seems too soon to go Home Sweet Home. But we all think Trefoil is Something Wonderful, although we are not too sure We Could Have Danced All Night.

World Thinking Day is a special day in the Girlguiding calendar, when we think about our 10 million sisters in guiding all across the world. Groups typically celebrate with activities to learn about other countries or the history of guiding, and often meet up with other local groups to help remind us that we're part of a huge global movement!
